HackerRank delivers the world’s only Developer Skills Platform built on an industry-proven skills rubric that allows Foursquare to conduct remote, reliable, real-world technical interviews that developers love.

From company-branded invitations, to clear communications, to best-in-class IDE, HackerRank helps transform our hiring experience. Interview scheduling, invitations, and candidate reports with seamless ATS integration make HackerRank an integral part of our recruiting process.

HackerRank's Virtual Whiteboard empowers Foursquare's interviewers to gain deep insight into our candidates system design skills and how they would solve pressing business problems. This gives us a strong indication of our candidates technology capability and maturity.
